ART WORLD CORONAVIRUS TRACKER

Since its emergence in Wuhan, China, last December, the novel coronavirus COVID-19 has upended numerous cities and countries across the globe. Among the various sectors that have been heavily affected is the art world—an industry fueled by perpetual itinerancy as well as social gatherings of mass scale and close proximity. As the public health crisis escalates, arts organizations have shut down events, have announced postponements, or are carefully trying to trudge forward. Here is a continually refreshed list of major events and institutions that have made such decisions due to the virus as well as a list of resources for artists and arts institutions impacted by the pandemic:

LIST OF COVID-19 RELIEF FOR ARTISTS AND ARTS INSTITUTIONS:

516 Arts

The noncollecting contemporary art museum's Fulcrum Fund will award sixty emergency relief grants of $1,000 each, totaling $60,000, to individual artists living and working within an eighty-mile radius of Albuquerque, New Mexico, that have lost income, or anticipate losing income, as a result of cancellations caused by the pandemic.

50 Arts COVID-19 Emergency Relief Fund

ArtsFund, along with a coalition of arts and cultural organizations, has created the COVID-19 Arts Emergency Relief Fund to provide short-term relief in the form of unrestricted grants to nonprofit arts organizations in King County, Washington, which have been particularly hard hit during this public health emergency. Award amounts will vary based on scope of programs, emerging needs, and total resources available.

4Culture Relief Fund

The fund will distribute $1 million in COVID-19 relief to the cultural sector in King County, Washington, in the coming months. The first round of funding will be available April 1 through May 15.

The Adolph & Esther Gottlieb Emergency Grant

The grant program provides interim financial assistance to painters, printmakers, and sculptors whose needs are the result of an unforeseen, catastrophic incident, and who lack the resources to meet that situation.

Anonymous Was A Woman Emergency Relief Grant

The program will distribute $250,000 in grants, up to $2,500 apiece, to women-identifying visual artists who have experienced financial hardship from loss of income or opportunity as a direct result of the coronavirus crisis. Eligible applicants must be over the age of forty and based in the United States.

Art Interrupted Emergency Arts Fund

Launched by Twenty Summers in Massachusetts, the fund will support artists and arts organizations facing unmanageable financial loss as a result of COVID-19. Artists and organizations must be nominated to receive funding.

Artist Community Relief Fund

Launched by the Abrons Arts Center and Henry Street Settlement, the microgrant program will provide one-time payments of $250 to artists and arts workers based in Chinatown and the Lower East Side in Manhattan who were affected by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Artist Relief

Artist Relief will distribute $5,000 grants to artists facing dire financial emergencies due to COVID-19; serve as an ongoing informational resource; and colaunch the COVID-19 Impact Survey for Artists and Creative Workers, designed by Americans for the Arts, to better identify and address the needs of artists moving forward.

Artist Relief Project

Any artist in any discipline who has been impacted by COVID-19–related cancellations and closures may apply for assistance. Short-term relief in the form of $200 stipends and support will be given on a first-come, first-serve basis, with the only limitation being how much money the initiative was able to fundraise. The first round of awardees will receive monetary aid around April 16.

Artist Relief Tree

This fund offers short-term financial assistance to those pursuing careers as artists and whose income has been directly impacted by the global health crisis.

Artist Trust Relief Fund

The COVID-19 Artist Trust Relief Fund is open to individual artists of all disciplines residing in Washington State. Unrestricted cash grants are intended to support working artists who have lost wages and earnings and need help with medical bills, rent and mortgage payments, food, utilities, and other living expenses. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis. Grants range from $500–$5,000 based on artists’ needs.

Arts for Illinois Relief Fund

Individuals including artists, artisans, and other culture workers are encouraged to apply for one-time grants of $1,500, which are awarded expediently and based on a lottery system. Arts organizations grants are likewise based on a combination of need and lost revenue from the crisis. The application portal for individual artists will close temporarily on Wednesday, April 8, at 5:00 PM CST for processing and fundraising. The application will reopen in May.

Authors League Fund

The fund is designed to help writers, including book authors, dramatists, and journalists, continue their careers by providing no-strings-attached “loans” to pay for pressing expenses. Repayment of this emergency support is not required.

Boston Artist Relief Fund

The Boston Artist Relief Fund will award grants of $500 to individual Boston-based artists whose creative practices and incomes are being adversely impacted by the coronavirus. The fund will prioritize applications from lower income artists and artists who have not been funded through city-led grants during this fiscal year.

CERF+ Emergency Relief Fund

CERF+ emergency assistance is available to established artists working in a craft discipline who have earned the majority of their livelihoods from artmaking and are in need of immediate financial assistance. CERF+ grants typically total around $3,000.

Colorado Artist Relief Fund

The fund is a collaboration between Denver Arts & Venues' Imagine2020 Artist Assistance Fund, Colorado Creative Industries, and RedLine's INSITE Fund.

Creative Industry Relief Fund

Hear Fort Worth and Film Fort Worth with assistance from United Way of Tarrant County have established a creative industry relief fund to help support musicians, artists, performers, and filmmakers who have lost work due to COVID-19. The fund is open to local Fort Worth musicians, filmmakers, and artists. Qualified applicants will be eligible for a one-time grant of $300. All applications received will be distributed on a first come, first served basis.

Creative Response Fund Emergency Grants

A New Orleans-based relief effort that will provide $2,000 individual emergency grants to local artists and culture workers who have lived in the greater New Orleans metro area for at least twelve months and are at least twenty-one years of age or older. Applicants must rely primarily on income from their creative practice and communicate a dire need as a result of the pandemic.

The Creator Fund

ConvertKit established a $50,000 fund to help creators in need during the COVID-19 pandemic, which has since grown to more than $185,000. One-time awards of $500 will be granted to cultural producers who need help with medical, childcare, housing, or grocery needs.

Dance NYC COVID-19 Dance Relief Fund

Freelance dance workers are eligible to apply for monthly awards of $500 with a maximum of $1,500 across the grant period, from March 2020 to June 2020. Applicants may submit applications for any month and will be able to carry over information from one application to the next, as needed.

The Dancers' Fund Financial Assistance

The Dancers' Fund provides short-term financial assistance to Chicago dance professionals diagnosed with a critical health need. Those who are eligible include company and freelance dancers, choreographers, musical theater dancers, dance instructors, rehearsal musicians, dance administrators and producers, and technical personnel. The award amount of up to $4,000 may be used for doctor and hospital visits, surgery, medical testing, therapy, rehabilitation, and medication, as well as home healthcare, housing, utilities, and insurance.

Desert X Artist Relief Fund

Artists in need across Southern California, including the Coachella Valley, who have been directly impacted by the current COVID-19 pandemic, are invited to apply now for emergency relief grants. One-time unrestricted cash grants of $1,000 will be administered on a rolling basis.

Foundation for Contemporary Arts

The Foundation will disburse one-time $1,500 grants to artists who have had performances or exhibitions canceled or postponed because of the pandemic. Applicants must be individual artists, or an individual representing an artist collective, ensemble, or group. Curators, producers, workshop organizers, organizations, or arts presenters are not eligible to apply.

Freelancers Relief Fund

Operated by Working Today, a nonprofit subsidiary of the Freelancers Union, the fund provides assistance of up to $1,000 per household to qualifying freelancers to cover lost income and essential expenses. Applicants will be asked to submit a detailed funding request outlining their needs. Funding amounts will be determined by magnitude of income loss as a result of COVID-19.

The Frederick Artist Relief Fund

The fund will award grants of $250–$500 to individual artists who live in Frederick County, Maryland, and whose creative practices and incomes are being adversely impacted by the coronavirus. This fund is for individual artists only, not organizations or nonprofits.

Greater Columbus Arts Council COVID-19 Emergency Relief Grants

The program is designed to assist artists of all disciplines living in Franklin County, Ohio, with the financial impacts of COVID-19 including recouping financial loss due to canceled events such as performances, paid speaking engagements, readings, exhibitions, and festival/fairs and offsetting loss of income for teaching artists who are not able to teach during this time due to canceled lessons/classes and school closures. Artists are eligible to request up to $1,000, with priority being given to those with the direst needs of shelter, food, and other essentials. Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis and awarded weekly until funds are exhausted.

Kinkade Family Foundation Emergency Grant for Curators

The program will provide one-time grants of up to $5,000 to curators for unexpected emergencies related to the COVID-19 pandemic. Priority is being given to curators who focus on contemporary art and who have secured venues for projects that are scheduled to open, or were supposed to open, no later than December 2020.

Max's Kansas City Project

The New York–based organization will provide emergency funding and resources to professionals in the creative arts who have professionally or personally demonstrated a financial need for medical aid, legal aid, or housing. Funding is determined according to the individual’s need and is disbursed in the form of a grant not to exceed $1,000.

Mayer Foundation Economic Relief Grants

The foundation makes economic relief grants to individuals and private foundations in New York who are distressed or suffering as a result of poverty, low income, or lack of financial resources. The grant sizes vary but generally amount to about $2,000. The funds can be used for health care and medical needs.

Musicians Foundation

Must be a musician of any genre who has worked in the United States for a period of at least five years to apply. Grants typically range between $500 and $3,000.

National Endowment for the Arts

The $75 million in funding made available to the agency through the federal CARES Act is now available. One-time grants of $50,000 will be awarded to eligible nonprofit organizations including arts organizations, local arts agencies, statewide assemblies of local arts agencies, arts service organizations, units of state or local government, federally recognized tribal communities or tribes. Organizations may request $100,000 or $250,000 for subgranting programs. All applicants must be previous NEA award recipients from the past four years (fiscal years 2017–2020).

NC Artist Relief Fund

Sending grants of up to $200 to artists in Wake County, North Carolina, as well as other areas of the state that do not have a dedicated fund already set up (see a full list here).

NYC COVID-19 Response & Impact Fund

The fund is providing grants and no-interest loans to small and mid-size New York City nonprofit organizations working in the human services, with particular interest in those supporting essential healthcare, food delivery, homeless services, workforce development, educational support, and early childhood education, and arts and culture. Loans will range from $100,000 to $3 million and can be used for a variety of purposes.

Oolite Arts Relief Fund

Will offer up to $500 to cover lost income due to the novel coronavirus. Open to visual artists who live in Miami-Dade County, Florida.

PEN American Writers' Emergency Fund

The organization will distribute grants of $500 to $1,000. Applicants must be professional writers who are based in the United States and are able to demonstrate that this one-time grant will be meaningful in helping them to address an emergency situation.

Performing Arts Worker Relief Fund

Created for performing arts workers who are facing a loss of income due to the ongoing COVID-19 crisis. Open to Bay Area individuals working in all aspects of the performing arts including actors, administrators, box office/event staff, carpenters, dancers, designers, directors, dramaturgs, musicians, playwrights, production staff, singers, teaching artists, and technicians.

Philadelphia Performing Artists' Emergency Fund

The fund was created to assist performing artists in Philadelphia whose income has been impacted by show cancellations, slowing ticket sales, or low turnout during this pandemic. Financial aid of up to $250 per person can be requested by any cabaret, drag, burlesque, theater, or performance artists facing a financial hardship caused by COVID-19.

The Photographer Fund

Self-employed photographers who are facing financial hardships are invited to apply. The fund offers assistance of up to $500 per person.

Pillars Rapid Response Fund

The fund supports the personal expenses of Muslim artists and activists whose livelihoods are being negatively impacted by the coronavirus and with $500 grants to individuals.

Pittsburgh Arts Council Emergency Fund for Artists

Artists whose creative practices and incomes are being adversely impacted by the coronavirus or other emergencies, may apply for up to $500 in assistance.

Portland Area Artist Emergency Relief Fund

Established by Portland's creative laureate, Subashini Ganesan, and Oregon's poet laureate, Kim Stafford, this fund is for freelance and independent artists residing in the Portland tri-county area—Clackamas, Multnomah, and Washington—who are facing guaranteed lost income from March 18 to June 10.

Rauschenberg Emergency Grants

Beginning in May 2020, the program will provide visual and media artists and choreographers with one-time grants of up to $5,000 for medical emergencies. The grants are available to visual and media artists and choreographers who are

US citizens or permanent residents in the United States, District of Columbia, or US territories.

Relief Fund for L.A. County Visual Artists

Launched by the California Community Foundation, the J. Paul Getty Trust, the Mike Kelley Foundation for the Arts, the Sam Francis Foundation, and the Shepard and Amanda Fairey Foundation, the fund will distribute $655,000 to help visual artists in Los Angeles County. Applicants will be asked to describe their financial plight and are requested to apply only if they have immediate need of aid. Each grantee will receive up to $2,000.

San Francisco Arts and Artists Relief Fund

Will initially provide $1.5 million to mitigate COVID-19 related financial losses suffered by artists and small to mid-size arts and culture organizations and will prioritize those serving financially vulnerable communities.

San Francisco Foundation Emergency Response Fund for Nonprofits

The fund is providing one-time grants between $5,000 and $25,000 to nonprofits addressing racial bias, worker protection, homelessness and housing security, and food security.

South Asian Arts Resiliency Fund

The fund will distribute project grants of at least $1,000 (up to $2,000 depending on financial need and availability of funds) to assist United States–based arts workers of South Asian descent (Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Maldives, Nepal, Pakistan, Sri Lanka) in performing arts, film, visual arts, and/or literature.

Springboard for the Arts Personal Emergency Relief Fund

The fund is a resource for Minnesota-based artists. Cultural Producers can request up to $500 to compensate for canceled work that was scheduled and lost.

Spokane Artists and Creatives Fund

The fund is for individual artists who live in Spokane, Washington and is capping disbursements at $500 at this time.

The Tri-State Relief Fund

Will distribute one-time unrestricted cash grants of $2,000 each to freelance, contract, or unsalaried archivists, art handlers, artist/photographer's assistants, cataloguers, database specialists, digital assets specialists, image scanners/digitizers, and registrars. Applicants must show proof of residency in Connecticut, New Jersey, and/or New York from the last two years; have a minimum of five years experience in the visual arts; and be able to show proof of critical financial need due to loss of income directly related to the COVID-19 crisis. There will be three cycles of applications that will be open from May 5–May 6, May 19–May 20, and June 2–June 3.

A rendering of the 2019 novel coronavirus COVID-19.

Combating the Coronavirus at Home:

The CDC advises household members to prepare for a coronavirus outbreak in their communities. Among the steps that should be taken are creating a list of nearby aid organizations, making an emergency contact list, inquiring about workplace action plans, preparing for temporary closures of schools or childcare facilities, and educating one's family on preventative measures.

The public health institute says the best way to prevent illness is to avoid being exposed to the virus, which is spread mainly from person to person, and recommends social distancing. It also urges people to disinfect their homes and to wash their hands with soap and water for at least twenty seconds after blowing your nose, coughing, or sneezing; before eating; and after visiting a public space. If soap and water are not readily available, hand sanitizer with 60 percent or more alcohol can be used as a substitute. If you are sick, stay home and do not go out unless it is to seek medical care. If you must leave your residence, cover your mouth and nose with a face mask or a cloth and maintain a distance of six feet between yourself and others.

To learn more about what preventive measures you can take, you can visit the CDC's website here.
