FotoFocus is back with an exhibit of vintage to modern-day photography

On Saturday, October 9, 2021, FotoFocus will feature a day-long symposium at Cincinnati's Memorial Hall. The theme this year is Telephotography, and will offer lectures and panel discussions from international artists, curators, photojournalists, and educators.

The symposium will explore both the electronic circulation of photographs and the technique of photographing distant objects through personal photographs, press images, and military surveillance.
