FotoFocus breaks ground on new center

FotoFocus, the Cincinnati-based nonprofit organization dedicated to championing photography and lens-based art, broke ground on a 14,700-square-foot arts center, including 4,500 square feet of gallery space.

FotoFocus is working with local architecture studio Jose Garcia Design + Construction for the new center on East Liberty Street in Over-the-Rhine.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at Lightborne Communications, where the FotoFocus office is currently housed. Guests viewed projected renderings of the FotoFocus Center and heard Kevin Moore, FotoFocus artistic director and curator, and Jose Garcia discuss the creative decisions influencing the design.
